

TRADITION Grüner Veltliner 2018 Weinviertel DAC Reserve

- Origin: Weinviertel, Austria
- Varietal(s): Green Veltliner
- Color: Bright yellow with a hint of green.
- Description: In the nose grapefruit, rose blossoms and fine white pepper, solid and expressive on the palate, juicy, intense aroma with mineralic tones in a long finish. Impresses with the characteristic freshness and fruit of the Falkenstein terroir and its animating elegance.
- Terroir: Tradition renewed: through strict selection of grapes and maturing on the lees until spring this wine shows directness and expressive power. Exotic fruits on the nose, fullbodied and spicy on the palate with a taste of minerals in the finish. The label shows an excerpt from our oldest wine law, dated 1309. A tribute to the long tradition of wine growing in our region.
- Vinification: Hand-picked selection of old vineyards, cold mazeration for 24 hours before pressing. Matured on the lees for 6 months, one part in large oak-casks, the other in stainless-steel.
- Food-Pairing: Poached Danube salmon, codfish with mustard sauce, fried/grilled fillet of plaice, fried/grilled seabass & fennel, prime boiled beef, breaded fried veal escalope.

The Winery

Dürnberg in the picturesque village of Falkenstein is managed by winemaker Christoph Körner together with his friends and business partners Matthias Marchesani and Georg Klein. „The three from Dürnberg“ are true wine enthusiasts and therefore constantly aim at the creation of wines with strong character that unite the traditional and the modern in a refined, sophisticated way.

The mixture of limestone and loam comprise the typical wine soil – the terroir - of the region. Elegance, complexity on the palate and cool minerality are rooted here.

No matter which measures are taken in the vineyards, the sustainable use of natural resources is at the forefront of Dürnberg's care. As every detail of the vineyards is known, the team has formulated his own rules of eco-management. Only resources that are permitted for "controlled integrated production" are used. Because of this sustainable management, the Dürnberg team is proud of their healthy old vineyards with up to 60 years old vines!

Dürnberg Winery is a „Leading Wine Producer“ of the Weinviertel region and certified for its sustainable production.
